LOOKING AT THE NEWS WITH COLONEL HUGH CLARK

The House of Commons is accustomed to maneuvering and advocating economy and at the same time urge expenditures in their own ridings. In this they are truly representative, for the people also demand economy so long as it does not affect expenditure in their own immediate neighborhood. But the Commons are the specter lately of a Quebec member opposing a grant to his own constituency. That man is a patriot and he intends to run again, a brave one.

Thoroughfare of the railways should be obliged to levy for pensions to men thrown out of employment by the co-operation program. It is not only a few men in parliament who do not appreciate the plight of the railways and of the country which owns one of them.

The Hitler administration may or may not be a threat to Germany's government—not ours—and we should not allow its opponents to embroil us in any dispute with a country with which we are presently at peace.

Both parties to the dispute are spreading propaganda in foreign countries and we do not anticipate in that direction. Their antagonists in Canada and the United States are well equipped with power to influence public opinion through radio, moving pictures and press despatches.

The British foreign office ought to help its business, but really an apology is seldom worth having, and should not be demanded unless you are sure to get it or are prepared to fight and lick the other fellow if he refuses, in which case it is not worth the price.

Maya Leafs and Boston Bruins played 105 minutes of extra time to break a tie and then they wonder why they are not one of them who will escape permanent harm from such exertions. Butchered to make a Xmas holiday, is not a poetical fancy.

When a government takes the position that it is not in the least interested in revealing what certain public officials are receiving, the public may get for granted that some officials are overpaid. And when the argument is advanced that such officials are so valuable they might—if it were known what small salaries they were receiving, be lured away by private enterprises, one can only be amused and laugh or be cynical and sneer.

LANGDON

While at work on a Brander's farm on Thursday last, horse stepped on H. Schwannbach's foot. He fell and the horse stepped on his arm crushing it. Mrs Scott rendered first aid and the horse was taken to Calgary for treatment. His many friends are sorry to hear of Hermann's bad luck and hope he will recover quickly. The Play Treaty Jim put on at Langdon by the Dalmatian players on Thursday night was much enjoyed, everyone saying how splendidly it was presented. Due to the late time of year the crowd was not as large as it should have been but it was very appreciative one.

Miss Victoria Allcock was the Normal Practice teacher at school last week. Miss Edith Higley taught at Kent school.

We wonder how many are calling it a million dollars snowfall Sunday and Monday were certainly real winter days with about 8 or 10 inches of snow on the level.

A McNeil accompanied Kirk to his home at Macleod to spend the Easter holidays. They went by motor.

JUNIOR GOLF CLUB FORMED

On Monday evening April 10th an organization meeting of the Strathmore Junior Golf Club was held at the residence of Mr. G. H. Patrick.

A majority of the enthusiasts were present and the Senior Club was represented by Messrs. Perry, Ridley, Fessenden, Van Tighem, and Patrick. These gentlemen very kindly had before the junior the splendid and generous offer by which it would be possible for the students to play golf at a minimum expense.

The following officers were elected: President, George Patrick; Vice-President, Derrick Whitehead; Captain, Jack Van Tighem; Sec-Treas, Phyllis Bower. The executive committee of the club with the addition of Mr. Ted Schuchman.

Mr. Ferrie is the father of Mrs. Oliver Booth lady of this district and was in his 85th year. Mr. Ferrie spent quite a number of years in this district and his only child.

GRASSHOPPER MENACE

Though there is no need for great alarm among the farmers this spring regarding grasshopper outbreaks there undoubtedly will be a reduction in certain of the southern sections of the province. Farmers are urged not to be concerned about hoppers or eggs appearing at present but to be on the watch for breeding grounds during the latter part of May, when the hatching period will appear. The usual complete arrangements are being made this year by the provincial government to assist the farmers in combating outbreaks. Farmers are asked to send samples of hoppers or eggs at any time to H. L. Seaman, District entomologist at Lethbridge or to Prof. Strickland at the University at Edmonton. The poisoning campaign will be under the direction of E. L. Gray, Field Crops Commissioner.

MINERAL PRODUCTION

Total value of mineral production for 1932 is placed at $21,413,832. This is made up of $15,411,192 for coal, $3,822,640 for natural gas, $1,234,700 for oil, $229,584 for clays, $299,227 for cement and $254,247 for other materials. Only $43 tons of tar sands were taken out last year valued at $1,372.

THE RELIEF PROBLEM

Red Deer.—The following letter has passed between the city of Red Deer and the provincial relief Commission. The letter states in regard to the question of recipients working out the whole of their relief.

A. Mackenzie, Esq., Supervisor of Relief and Charity, Edmonton, Alberta.

Dear Sir:—I am instructed by the City Council to ask you the following questions regarding direct relief.

1. Is it the policy of the government, Dominion and Provincial that municipalities giving direct relief to unemployed should require that the recipient of this relief work out the total amount of relief granted, or only the one third share that is paid by the municipality?

2. Is there any fixed rate of wages to be allowed in working out this relief, on what basis is the rate to be allowed?

3. Is it the practice in municipalities to require that the recipient of relief to be worked out?

4. Will the governments make any allowance in lieu of rent to owners of property on unemployed relief to apply on taxes on their homes?

ALBERTAN WINS

Alberta cattle raisers are looking for a fairly substantial shipment of cattle from the province to the British market again this year. Last year, of the 25,000 head exported from Canada overseas, it is estimated nearly one quarter came from Alberta feed lots and ranges.

SCHOOL FAIRS

Under the general policy of economy the provincial government will make no grants to school fairs this year. There is, however, a quantity of seed on hand which will be distributed to these school fair organizations who are in a position to carry on themselves this season.

WORLD CHAMPION
YANKEES OUT TO RETAIN
AMERICAN LEAGUE FLAG

Chicago—Wholesale trading during the winter months has no considerable interest to the 1933 American League baseball race. Thirteen regulars, seven of them pitchers, changed uniforms in the off season, a move which has made the circuit much better balanced than it has been for a number of years.

There seems to be no good reason why the New York Yankees will not repeat their victory of 1932. The club with possibly one exception will start the same team against the Boston Red Sox that cruised the Cubs four straight in the World Series last fall. Babe Ruth is not quite himself but he will start in right field. The only problem facing Manager Joe McCarthy is at shortstop where Bill Werber a rookie from Buffalo is battling Lyn Lary and Frank Crosetti for a starting assignment. The club actually has so many good pitchers that McCarthy is at a loss as to what to do with them all.

starting assignment at shortstop. Burnett will probably open the season at that position but Kidder, boomer will threaten when the going gets rough. Roy Spencer will be on the catching staff.

Lucy Harris claims his eyes are the best looking club last season. Detroit in years ago we believe he is right. The Tigers are fast and young, hustling all the time and ready to step up about one of the leaders faster. Ervin Fox who had a good year with Beaumont in the Texas League in season has apparently clinched regular position in the Detroit outfield. Marvin Owen, back with the Tigers after stops at Toronto and Newark is at third base. Henry Greenberg from Beaumont is a engaging young infielder who stands over six foot three and hits them a mile. Charles Zacher from St. Louis Browns and Fred McInerry, big right handed formerly of Washington and strong to the tiger staff.

The addition of Al Simmons, George (Mule) Davis and Jimmy Dykes from the Athletics has made the Chicago White Sox a first class team. If these three veterans perform in first class manner the Sox will be a hard club to beat. Pitching is one big problem. Dan Durbin came to Chicago from the Boston Red Sox during the winter and has pitched fine ball to make him a reliable shortstop.

If spring training victories are anything the St. Louis Browns are going to get somewhere this season for the Browns have won everything before them in the South. The club acquired two dependable outfielders in Sam Rice and Carl Reynolds from Washington but had to give Walter Stewart and Goose Goslin in exchange. However, Lloyd Brown and Duffie Peckham left and right. John, respectively both from the Sox, make up for the loss of Stewart.

It is the general opinion that the Boston Red Sox will be little more than troublemakers. Under new ownership they should be developing into a pennant contender in a year or two but that will take time and money, a considerable amount of both. The batting strength has been increased and the pitching has great possibilities. Johnny Hooper, Gregory Mulvey and Bertie Friers are three experienced infielders who have been acquired during the winter months. Doc Seeds and Bob Fothergill from the White Sox give the Boston club more power in the outfield. John Goach of Nashville, back for another trial at major league catching and Mervin Blue from Louisville will do most of the work behind the plate.

A traffic cop says that not all the wooden headed drivers are found on golf courses.

Sir Thomas Horder, distinguished Physician of London, England, has stated:—

"THE WILLING AND HAPPY WORKER WILL GET MORE WORK DONE AND DO IT BETTER THAN THE UNWILLING AND DISCONTENTED WORKER. IT IS IN THIS DIRECTION THAT ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES LIKE BEER MAKE THEIR GREATEST CONTRIBUTION TO ECONOMIC EFFICIENCY."

"APPETITE IS A FUNCTION OF THE BRAIN AS MUCH OR EVEN MORE THAN OF THE STOMACH, AND ITS IMPORTANCE IN THE PHYSIOLOGY OF DIGESTION AND NUTRITION IS VERY GREAT. IT IS STIMULATED BY A MODERATE USE OF SUCH A BEVERAGE AS BEER, AND AT THE SAME TIME ZEST IS GIVEN TO LIFE WHICH RESULTS IN LARGER AND RICHER ACTIVITIES."

HENRY FORD PREDICTS CHANGED INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS

Henry Ford, great dealer and great thinker looks at current industrial life and instead of worrying over keeping his motorcar factories busy he plans calmly the scrapping of his mammoth River Rouge plant to meet the challenge of a new order. He finds life insisting on expression, on growth, on following a constantly changing scale. Trying to limit production is trying to limit life; it has brought world chaos. The value of surplus is its pressure on men to find wonderful new uses for it. Farm surplus is forcing the factory to join the dinner table in swallowing it up. Mr. Ford now makes steering wheels from the soy bean. He plans to grow more and more of the automobile in the fields. He sees one road to orderly progress and real prosperity—it is to welcome life and abundance with both hands and go along in their stride.

Mr. Ford will lead in decentralizing industry. He sees the crowded industrial town as having served its day. He plans small factories linked to farms extending through the countryside. He sees men earning city incomes, yet spending their days out where the daisies bloom. These men are factory workers and farmers too. They raise crops with one hand, turn them into commodities with the other. They grow soy beans convert them into auto parts, paint and enamel the car with soy oil. Ford sees 50,000 little plants serving him in the future. Better still, he sees an auto with one foot on the land and one in the factory serving himself—it will be hard to tip over this coming Colossus of Rhodes.

America advancing to meet the unfolding expressions of life is obviously the passion that animates Henry Ford. It is not the motor maker who speaks so eloquently through Mr. Elliott's interview but the thinker striving with ones he can glimpse and feel. He is something attuned. He knows this notion that scarcity can be plenty is a fallacy. He knows surplus is not an evil but a good. It intimates that nothing appears wrong to men who will think things through. Where little men see depths of depression this leads to immeasurable opportunity. Everything has fused; he is forcing this into manhood, mind! What he is shouting at the masses: Wake up, take hold and rejoice. —The Monitor

MOTOR FUEL FROM WHEAT INTERESTING STUDY

The Toronto Globe says one of the most interesting and scientific studies ever made in Canada today is that concerning the feasibility of turning 20,000,000 or so bushels of Canadian annual wheat surplus into motor fuel for automobiles.

On the floor of the Commons Mr. George G. Coote, Progressive member from Macleod, Alberta submitted opinion that there was a ten cents per bushel increased wheat price in it for farmers at little or no cost to the motorist.

In response to Mr. Coote's urge for Government investigation, Hon. Robert Wair, Minister of Agriculture promised inquiries but it seems that the National Research Institute, a Government financed organization carrying on scientific experiment in innumerable fields, has had the investigation in hand for some months.

The Research Institute, apparently does not care for advance publicity as to what it hopes to accomplish in the way either of social or commercial benefits, but it is understood the finding is that there would not be much difficulty in adjusting present automobile carburetors to utilize the contemplated gasoline and denatured alcohol mixture. The problem is with the cost of producing the alcohol.

Western members of Parliament other than Mr. Coote have also become keenly interested in what promises to be a new development in the grain situation. Some of them have pursued their inquiries to Washington with the gasoline companies and chemical experts as well as with the wheat growers. Results of their most careful research, it seems indicate that it might cost the Canadian motorist an additional one cent per gallon to burn the contemplated gasoline alcohol mixture if the alcohol manufacturing plant were located in the West close to grain supplies. If it were located in the East with grain transportation charges to be added, they claim to have ascertained, the contemplated gasoline cost would be two or three cents per gallon.

But there will be general agreement that it would constitute a mighty big economic lift to Canada's hard pressed Western grain growers if 20 or 25 million bushels of their grain could be profitably diverted from its wonted market into efficient commercial usage.

HOWSON'S CHARGES WERE NOT SUPPORTED

Finding no ground whatever for the extravagant charges of reckless expenditure of public funds and scandal in the awarding of contracts for highway construction in 1931 and 1932, the report of the public accounts committee of the provincial legislature, investigating the charges, was submitted to the legislature and on Monday afternoon April 10th was adopted by a vote of 43 to 9, on a resolution submitted by Premier Bowles.

The charges made by W. R. Howson, Liberal leader, were not supported in committee by George Webster, Liberal, Calgary who in the course of a speech regretted them, and disassociated himself from his leader, saying that Mr. Howson's charges were far too sweeping and had not been substantiated by the evidence taken. Later, when the vote was taken Mr. Webster was absent from the House.

Conservatives, Independents and Labor voted with the government most against Mr. Howson, in an amendment to the report in which he practically repeated his original charges.

The Conservatives, led by Mr. Duggan submitted another amendment which made minor criticism of the government policy in awarding contracts but made it plain that the party could not agree that there had been any evidence of scandal or dishonesty on the part of the minister or his officials. This amendment was also defeated by a vote of 51 to 4, in favor of the motion submitted by the premier. Support for the government motion came not only from Independents and Labor, but from the Conservatives. Colonel Duggan who voted against his own party amendment. Mr. Moyer of Drumheller, speaking for the Independents took the view that no scandal or dishonesty had been proven. One or two minor amendments submitted by the opposition group with respect to eight hours in contracts etc, were accepted by the House. Thus the entire matter was brought to a close.

THE YOUNGSTOWN PLAINDEALER

The Youngstown Plaindealer celebrated its 21st birthday with a special edition crammed full of news and reminiscences of early life of the people and prosperous days in the Youngstown district in a most creditable manner and is richly deserving of good support. The editor heads his columns with the following:

Looking Back

With this issue The Plaindealer reaches its twenty first birthday, having completed twenty full years of publication and service to Youngstown and district.

Twenty years is a long time and during that period many changes have taken place—changes in the people, changes in the farms that surround the town, changes in farming methods, changes in government, changes in politics and political affiliations, changes in roads and railroads, changes in population, changes in policies, changes in optimism and pessimism and so on—but in spite of all the changes some of the original settlers, both in the town and the country, are still here and carrying on, having built up homesteads on a permanent basis and are living today in the country and district of their adoption more than twenty years ago. And The Plaindealer through the twenty years of its existence has been a regular visitor to the homes of many of these pioneers, having with rare exceptions been brought out weekly since the first issue was published on April 3, 1912. It is going into houses today of many who were among the first subscribers.

GOPHER POISON

In view of the fact that a good many people have been inquiring for the formula for preparing gopher poison as put out by the North Dakota Agricultural College, the following recipe is given:

Mix one ounce of strychnine and one ounce of baking soda (one tablespoonful) together in dry form.

Put this into a wash basin full of hot, thin laundry suds, stirring until the mixture is creamy.

Add one fourth pint of syrup and stir thoroughly. A thin syrup may be used if desired.

Add 1 teaspoonful of saccharine and 1 tablespoonful of glycerine, and again stir thoroughly.

Pour this mixture over about 2

The vicar's wife was paying a visit to one of her husband's parishioners.

During the conversation her eyes alighted on a pile of empty bottles partly hidden by some sheets of paper.

"Ah, Mrs. Jackson," she said, "I see you have been having a party."

"The parishioner crisscrossed some what under her visitor's direct gaze."

"No, no, madam, she hastily replied, my husband works at a brewery and that, she pointed to the bottles, that's his home work."

Do you believe that marriages are made in heaven?
Of course, answered Miss Cayenne. But I sometimes fear that they often fail to finish where they started.

Please madam, asked the pretty maid, may I have Monday off to go and see my aunt?

Little Popsy, who had certain to see information on the subject added her pleadings to the maid's.

"Oh, mummy, she said, do let her go. Her aunt has been made a sergeant."

Parson—Well, how is your letter half this morning?

"Moose—She's bettah thanks, sub but Parson, yo' sho' is careless wit' yo' fractions."

There was a timid knock at the door.
If you please kind lady, said the bezzar, I've lost my right leg.
Well, snapped the woman, as the door was slammed in his face, I haven't got it.
